FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Exceptional Equestrians Welcomes Hippotherapy Clinician Samantha Berger

DE PERE, Wis., October 10, 2016 — Exceptional Equestrians announced that Samantha Berger has joined its staff as a certified occupational therapy assistant in its hippotherapy program. Berger provides hippotherapy—therapy using a horse—for children and adults with disabilities.

She received her occupational therapy assistant associate's degree at Fox Valley Technical College.

"I help people who face daily challenges by providing therapies that help them function more easily and by providing an experience that they look forward to week after week," said Berger. "The smiles and joy I see on their faces is unmatched."

Berger is seeing adult and pediatric clients at Exceptional Equestrians located at 1130 Orlando Drive in West De Pere. Appointments are available at (920) 347-3174.

Founded in 1999, Exceptional Equestrians provides hippotherapy, therapeutic riding, and equine-assisted learning programs that promote physical health and development, communication, community integration, self esteem, and achievement of functional skills. The non-profit organization located in West De Pere serves 175 families from throughout Northeastern Wisconsin annually with its team of experienced staff, volunteers, and therapy horses.
